+ Website Terms of Use

Welcome to our website!

The purpose of this website is to provide you with general information about Extra Law and should not be taken as providing any legal advice to you as our website visitor, or as an offer to represent you.

1. Application

These terms and conditions apply to your use of this website. By accessing the website, you are deemed to accept the terms and conditions and are bound by them.

2. New Zealand law

This website is governed in accordance with the laws of New Zealand and the Courts of New Zealand have non-exclusive jurisdiction.

3. Intellectual Property

Extra Law Limited or its licensors own all intellectual property rights in this website (including all of the content and all software code underlying and forming part of the website) and any attachments to this website created by Extra Law. The website's current design is the result of a collaboration between Extra Law and CREATIVA Design Studio. You may not use any of Extra Law's intellectual property rights without prior written consent.

4. Third party content or links

If the website provides third party information or links to third party websites, Extra Law accepts no responsibility in respect of any information received or reliance made on that information.
